RED CROSS HERE NEAR SHUTDOWN

Financial Straits Revealed in Council Session

NO FUNDS FOR PAYING

Logan Tells Dr. Pollock City Unable to Take it Over

As a result of the work of the Red Cross public health nurses in Port Arthur, infant deaths in the city during the summer months have been cut 50 per cent.

This side of the Red Cross work in Port Arthur was presented by Dr. A. S. Pollock, who he and other Red Cross officials appeared before the city commission today with the request that the Red Cross be relieved of the expense of its pro rata of paying costs around the hut, Fifth street and Dallas avenue.

City Powerless, Logan

"Now is the time of the year we most need the services of the Red Cross nurses and the health program, and it would be a tragedy to cut the nursing force of the chapter at the present," Dr. Pollock said. "Next fall when the annual roll call is made, I believe the community will realize the value of the Red Cross organization and back its work to the limit," he said.

Mayor Logan told the Red Cross representatives that it would be impossible for the city to bear the entire expense of paying around the Red Cross hut, even after the 25 per cent discount given by Smith Brothers, paying contractors, had been figured in, leaving about $1500 as the Red Cross share. Joining with the contractors, the city could pay another 25 per cent of the paying costs, leaving 50 per cent, or about $750 to be raised.

"I would be willing and glad to start raising the remaining 50 per cent of the paying costs with a $10 subscription," Mayor Logan said, when he found the city's funds are so exhausted that it will be impossible to take care of the entire Red Cross paying costs. "Others in the city also would be glad, I feel sure, to contribute if a small campaign was carried on," the mayor said.

Only $374 Cash on Hand

Cash on hand in the Red Cross chapter's treasury is $374, Perry

Face of the financial board and T. W. Houghton, chairman of the chapter, told the commission. The situation is extremely desperate and even though the force has been cut, two workers, one of them a nurse, having been laid off, temporary discontinuance of the Red Cross program in the city looks likely.

Referring to the pledges made, the Red Cross officials said some of these have not been paid and while they feel sure many of the pledges will be paid, the immediate financial situation demands immediate relief. The organization is face to face with the need to the bone. It is nevertheless a formidable monthly pay roll, which, although out of the financial aggregate, the officials said.

An item for $1800 for the Red Cross chapter was included in the city's budget for the ensuing fiscal year, and Mayor Logan suggested that the city borrow some of this sum and advance it to the Red Cross, paying back the amount when the taxes start coming in.

Criticism Campaigns

This suggestion was not acceptable to the Red Cross officials, they pointing out that they wanted this $1800 kept intact for next year's operating expenses.

The idea of conducting spasmodic campaigns for funds was attacked by Rev. Jack Frampton, superintendent of the Seamen's church institute, and an officer in the Red Cross chapter. Continual drains on the public pocketbook works a hardship and creates an impression among individuals that they should not be expected to respond at the annual roll call each fall after giving so frequently throughout the year, he said.

The committee has been advised by Mayor Steinhaugen of Beaumont and the Chamber of Commerce of that city.

Information Booth.

The quarter centennial information booth, located at Procter and Austin, today was a regular bee hive of activity. Mrs. Hooker has installed her office there and can be reached over telephone No. 2700.

A need for more offers to place decorated automobiles in the parade became apparent today with a checking of the list of offers received up to date. There will be prizes for the decorations of the cars. First prize is $50, second $25 and third $15.

The latest separate event to be added to the day's program is an orchestra to be conducted at 4:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the First Methodist Episcopal church, south, on Fifth street. The building is one of the coolest in the city, is conveniently located, and the recital is set for an hour calculated to accommodate a number of persons by way of a restful hour.

Fire Girls Return Seven 'Wonderful' Days in Summer Camp

A most delightful week at the summer camp at Beech Creek, the Campfire Girls returned late Sunday afternoon, bringing with them a becoming coat of sunburn and memories of seven wonderful days in the open.

The camp, under the direction of Miss Nettie Taylor, president of the Port Arthur Campfire Girls' association, and Captain David W. Eddy, Boy Scout executive, will linger long in the memories of the Campfire Girls; according to Miss Taylor, who said yesterday that many of the girls were sorry to have to return home at the end of the week.

While at camp each of the camps kept logs, happenings of each day, and each camp wrote at least one log during their stay. Excerpts from the logs of the various camps contain interesting, and at times, amusing incidents of the day's happenings.

THE following is an extract from the Wababsee camp's log tells of the first night's stay at "After being delayed by various things, such as the girls coming their masculine apparel back, etc., we arrived here by various means and vehicles and were surprised at Captain Eddy's judgment in preparing such a bounteous supper. Soon afterwards grunts and sounds issued forth from different tents, which later proved to be the efforts of the inmates of the camp preparing their beds for the night. When Miss Taylor's whistle sounded the girls gathered around the campfire and made feeble attempts at singing. Our Wababsee camp tried to give things up a bit with "You've Got to See Mama Every Night or You Can't See Mama at All." But our efforts were not appreciated and unable to go on in the face of such lack of musical appreciation and we decided and abandoned the camp fire with "Good-night, Ladies." We sought our tents and prepared to lay our weary heads down in quiet sleep, but just after taps we were startled by the hoarse of ovis and tee-hees from various quarters of the camp. These finally subsided and the bullfrogs took up the chorus and with the refrain from their melodious voices in our ears we passed into peaceful sleep. The Wababsee Campfire took the honors for having the neatest tent at tent inspection next day and received the flag for the day."

THE following excerpt was taken from the Lewas Campfire log: "After supper we assembled around our campfire as usual and were entertained by the Wababsee Camp Fire girls. Several pantomimes were given, which caused an outburst of much laughter and merriment. The usual program of the day was featured with a nature hunt, under the direction of Miss Hawley, but on account of the denseness of the woods and attractions such as berries, which proved to be both bitter and sour, only a few remained to absorb all the knowledge."

FROM the Tejas Campfire log: "The Lewas entertained with the one-ring circus as their part of the entertainment while sitting around the campfire in Indian style. First came the horse-back riders in beautiful costumes, fashioned in beautiful quito hares, on beautiful white steeds (being mostly sticks), who carried them through red hoops and around the ring. Next came the Siamese Twins, who have traveled around the world, judging by the difficulty with which they ever got around it. Puffing and panting, the fat lady, composed of pillows, followed. Charlie's cooking must be good, because since arriving at the camp the fat lady has gained 450 pounds. The bedridden Japanese right rock walker followed and gracefully balanced herself on a rope, stretched tightly across the ground, with the aid of a lovely jap parasol made with a hat and stick. An Indian dance was also featured and the circus closed with a grand parade and many shouts."

FROM the Minnehaha log was taken the following extract: "The whispers about the ice cream were confirmed when last night at supper each girl had a bowl of ice cream, which was donated by Mr. A. F. Graham. Misses Eddy, Davis, Burton, The Wababsee Camp-

"Fatty" (laughter) surprised us beyond all words when Miss Ida Hilly was posing a tin plate which was floating down the creek. Fatty said, "Nothing doing. Do you think I'm going to spoil my nice clean pants? Why I'd rather go to Silsbee and buy another pair."

At the last night of camp, while the girls were seated around the campfire the Wababsee gave a ceremonial meeting for the benefit of those girls who have never witnessed one. Prizes were awarded to several on the occasion, with Miss Ida Hilly receiving two prizes, a rubber rattle for being the camp baby, and a doll for being the youngest girl in camp. Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed—Perfectable Tablet Called "Calatots."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calatol. You'd know it to the drug trade as "calatots." Colonel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus entirely removed a wider field of popularity and purified qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calatol was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calatol at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. HAVE A CARE TAKE A SPARE

"It's certainly disgusting to bounce over the road making those thumping humpty-dumpty noises, when you're caught without a spare tire, but with a flat one," says Speed O'Day.

It wears out your casing and cuts your tube, and sometimes you have to take the first tire you can find. How much better to get the spare before you need it, and get a Norwalk Cord. It's just good business.

Islanders Chase Cook From Pitchers Box and Win Game

Club Breaks Jinx And Cops Exciting Issue Of Bingles

Upper Gardner Chooses New Lineup to Join City League Race, and Makes Wise Decision; Citizens Beaten After Early Lead

By BILL ARCHER
UPPER TOMMY GARDNER'S Islanders hit when hits counted yesterday, clouted Cook's offerings with an unrelenting stick and broke their losing streak of several weeks' duration by clipping the wings of the Citizens, 4 to 1, in a game of baseball on Lakeshore that went six frames for an hour and five minutes of fast stuff.

The Islanders, strengthened by the addition of several new players and the return of others, looked better yesterday than they have at any time since the season opened. Their infield, with the exception of a weak spot at third, was as good as the best in the City league race, and they played rings around the Citizens.

Cook, with a dinky ball that didn't get far in the fight, was pasted hard in the third, and the Islanders chased him from the rubber with four runs from five clean hits, one of which went on for a double. Bennett, sent in to relieve him, and clouted the rest of the way, but one base hit in the third and the Gardner's slugged against him.

The Islanders came from behind in the sixth frame, after Skipper Craig's proteges had gained a run lead on a costly error at first base, to which the same player added an overthrow at first. The Citizens jumped their lead in the seventh frame, when Connolly, left out of the lineup, took advantage of the Citizens' error, leading to a run. Bennett, lead batter, went out at first when he was playing at short for the Islanders, and caught him in the initial bag. Perkins went to home on a wild pitch. Morgan, first base on error, Perkins, second base, and Connolly, third base, retired the side with a hit.

The rest of the way, Connolly, with a hit in the eighth, and a hit in the ninth, kept the Citizens from scoring, and the Islanders won the game, 4 to 1.

Connolly, who threw him out at first base, and the Islanders won the game, 4 to 1.

The "Tiger" Growls in Shelby

Jack's getting up more steam. He's putting more power in his punches now. Here he's nearly knocked Harry Drake out of the ring. There's always a good crowd on hand when Dempsey works out.

No wonder they call Dempsey the tiger of the ring. Just see that mean look on his map. Here he is the backup with Jack Burke, one of his sparring partners. Although much lighter than the champion, Burke wrestles him all over the ring, swapping punches for punches.

FIGHT FUND IS NOT YET PAID

Tom Gibbons Says He Will Scrap for Stamps

SHELBY, Mont., June 23.—They haven't raised the third $100,000 necessary to insure the Dempsey-Gibbons championship battle and from all indications the money is not in sight.

Jean Tracey, manager of the big fight, admitted today he has not found the $100,000 which he had hoped to deposit to the champion's credit today or tomorrow and said that while he has "several strings out," no deal has been struck.

In response to an order calling in all tickets and money, to enable the promoters to see where they stood, it is reported that more tickets than money are coming back.

It begins to narrow down to a question of whether Dempsey will take a chance of getting the third installment of his money "out of the house" after the fight.

Some of the directors think the champion will stand on his legal rights and claim the contract has been invalidated. Others insist public opinion will force the champion into the ring.

As for Tommy Gibbons, the challenger stands not to receive a cent of the receipts, don't go over $200,000. But Tommy said he didn't mind.

"I will fight for a postage stamp," the challenger declared. "I am after the title, and I don't go into this contest for the money. If Dempsey and I are the only ones in the arena, I'll fight."

Physicians Say He's Ready To Face Firpo

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 23.—Jesse Willard, former heavyweight champion, who is to fight Luis Firpo on July 12, was declared in splendid physical condition late yesterday, after an examination by three physicians acting for the state boxing commission.

There has been much controversy about Willard's physical condition and Tex Rickard, who is staging the affair, asked the commission to definitely settle the matter. Examination was made of Willard's eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart and blood pressure.

The physicians report stated Willard was "free from any physical defect." It gave Willard's age as 38 and his weight as 246 pounds.

HEAVY SHOWER HALTS CLASHES
Tennis Tournament in England Stopped

WIMBLEDON, England, June 23.—Heavy rain this afternoon again delayed play in the open tennis tournament and kept stars of half a dozen nations shivering under cover. At 2:30 the center court was drenched and soft, with no sign of a let up in the downpour.

The three American contestants in the men's singles—Vin Richards, Billy Johnston and Francis Hunter—who were prevented by rain from getting in their opening matches Monday, expected to play today. They all found the cold weather extremely distasteful.

Susanne Lengien, fitted in and out of the stands at the opening of play. Nearby Molla Mallory, her rival, sat stolidly knitting a jumper. They did not speak.

Exporters Drop Contest 3 to 2 Fashion

Special in The News
WICHITA FALLS, Texas, June 23.—With the score 2-2 in the eighth frame and the game poised on the line of the ninth, Joe Rogers came to bat here yesterday and closed a home run with a long drive to left field, and the Exporters beat the Fashion, 3 to 2.

The game was an exciting one, and developed right from the first to the last round. "Pop" Rogers has developed at least a reputation as a contingent that won't stand hit back long without real baseball to hold them.

Brashaw pitched in great form, and was almost an impossible problem for the locals. The score:

Mrs. Wilson, according to the bill filed Thursday by the executors to her father's estate, has not lived with her husband since her father's death.

SAPPHIRE BETWEEN DIAMONDS
The Choice of the Duke of York
As the royal bridegroom of the year, the Duke of York becomes the arbiter of fashion in several particulars—none more important than in the mode for the engagement ring.
His betrothal gift to Lady Elizabeth is a ring set with a large sapphire in the center and a diamond on either side. The gems are held in a mounting of platinum.
Unusual, but not undeserved for in its deep blue loveliness the sapphire is admirably befitting as love's token. And it can be shown to no better advantage than in close conjunction with diamonds, as is the case in Lady Elizabeth's ring.
Sapphires in combinations with diamonds are featured in a number of the exclusive gem-set pieces.
White, gold and platinum mountings $30 to $200.
Rings complete, first quality blue white diamonds $50 to $200 and up.

The Tangle

TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

James, never! I think that anyone who had loved me so unkind could be as you have been.

Right it is that a man clings to his woman, and surely no wife would unkindly be even when her husband gave a pitiful kindness to a woman whose need was as great as mine.

Oh, how am I! Think I could not that much trouble could to me come. Poor little me who has never anyone hurt but herself.

And I was so happy at first. To me, you were so good—I did not of the future think at all.

All red with weeping are now my eyes. Turned down in my mouth with sorrow. You would not know the girl called Paula.

No longer is she one that men might call beautiful.

Turned I have all my mirrors that I may not look into the sad eyes of the Paula who is here today—they make the heart of me ache so hard.

A friend to me said the other day, "You must have many letters from Jacques. Of money you are much in need. Why do you not sell them back to him? He would doubtless pay well for them and at least to you it will do something."

I will confess, now, that at first this to do I was determined but I cannot—I cannot do it. Those bitter words too precious are.

So I am sending them to you all but one—that one that you sent me when you left me in New York. When for the last time I read them, in my heart I knew I could never give that one up for it is all that in the future I shall have to keep me for my self-respect.

Do not be afraid, my friend. Paula does not wish to make you trouble. You she loves too much. At first she did not know this and she said to herself that she could be as anxious as were you. But, alas! It was not so.

Poor little Paula's heart began to crumble into bits when staring in her face she found great sorrow, great disgrace. And now the wish that in her greatest is that she may hide away for herself and never, never see the face of you again.

Instead of selling you the letters, compelled I have been to sell that lovely necklace which you gave to me when we were in New York together. It seems you got a bargain, Jacques, when you bought it even if to me it was only a token of a thing precious.

I got for it one thousand dollar. I remember you said that but half and so I am saying adieu and praying that out of your life the Fates shall let me go.

PAULA.

HE'LL RIDE MOTORBIKE
The "out-door" man of the city's water and sewer department may soon make his rounds in a flavor or a motor-bike. A conference in the interest of purchasing a vehicle of convenience for the out-door man was held in Mayor Logan's office this morning.

Mayor Logan advised the department to confer with the man who is to use it, as the type of conveyance he wants for his service. A purchase may then be made.

QUEEN MARY

An M. A. degree from Columbia University. Then her teaching career began. At various times, she taught classes in primary grades of the public schools of this city. Filled in a year in the academy at Port Arthur College, held a position with the Austin, Tex., high school, the Ouchita Parish high school at Monroe, La., and for the last four years she has headed the English department of the local high school.

Miss Donaldson is a member of the honor fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, of the University of Texas.

During the years of more mature womanhood, the queen-elect has exercised the right to vote in a political election on several occasions. Her ambitions in this direction, however, have been limited to seeing that the candidate for whom she cast her vote had the proper perspective of the needs of the educational systems.

During the World War, when the boys shouldered their guns and marched away, Miss Donaldson, with a number of college girls and high school students, inquired the method of procedure from national headquarters and set up a Port Arthur chapter of the Red Cross. Quarters were secured in the Chamber of Commerce and Miss Donaldson devoted the entire summer months ordinarily dedicated to a vacation rest, to the busy work of administering through the offices of the newly created organization.

MASONIC HOME PLANNED HERE

Bids May Be Asked in the Near Future

Plans are in process of formation that, if they are matured successfully, may result in erection here of a Masonic Temple at the proposed location of Fifth street and Waco avenue. It was learned today from J. J. Carrell, secretary of the Consistory lodge, No. 872, A. F. & A. M.

This announcement comes at the beginning of the Masonic year. It is the intention of the order to advertise bids for the new structure within the next 60 days, Carrell said.

Consensus Structure
It is proposed that the building will consist of four floors of which the third and fourth floors will be occupied by the lodge rooms, club room and recreational center. The first two floors will be occupied by stores and offices, it was stated.

The Masonic year just closed with the installation of new officers last evening was one of the most successful years in the history of the local organization, according to Mr. Carrell.

Officers installed last evening were as follows: A. B. Miles as installing officer, and John Rader acting as marshal.

W. H. Bailey, Worshipful Master; H. M. Hubbs, Senior Warden; C. J. Hill, Junior Warden; J. J. Carrell, secretary; P. N. Cochran, treasurer; A. A. Gunter, chaplain; S. M. Vaught, Senior Deacon; Robert Jernigan, Junior Deacon; R. P. McCoy, Senior Steward; W. M. Cochran, Junior Steward; and J. J. Bailey, Tyler.

At the close of the installation service refreshments were served in the club room.

He told me, "Yes, I'm an L. W. W. I'm an L. W. W. organizer and proud of it," Thorp concluded.

Miss Mary Donaldson's Pupils Serenade Her As Pt. Arthur's Queen

Is It Proper to Serenade a Queen?

This question was given serious thought last evening, and the answer was decidedly yes, when seven of Miss Mary Donaldson's former students serenaded her with appropriate parodies of popular songs at her home, 1147 Sixth street, last night. Miss Donaldson's selection as queen of Port Arthur's Centennial Celebration caused much rejoicing among her students and former students, all of whom worked diligently for her in the queen contest.

Those participating in the serenading last night were Misses Beulah Floy, Biedson, Margaret Kramer, Ernan Winn and Annie Ruth Hilar. Messrs. Albert Harris, Sterling Hunkler and Arnold Youngblood; and Professor A. M. Colpepper.

The regular meeting of Cherokee Redmen No. 8 met Thursday night at 8 o'clock Thursday night at C. V. Palmer's paint store, on Avenue between Procter street and Lake Shore drive is announced today by officials in the organization.

The regular meeting of Cherokee Tribe was held Thursday night at Macabees hall, when it was decided to finally close the charter for the tribe August 1. Officials said today they urged a full attendance of the members at the special called meeting next Thursday night.

Through an order of the Texas Railroad commission, received today in the office of Frank Potts, traffic manager of the Chamber of Commerce, the maximum rate on binder twine from Texas ports to Texas common points has been definitely fixed at 50 cents.

The order of the railroad commission, according to Mr. Potts, follows a protest made in the commission during its regular monthly meeting for June, "charging that while the rates on binder twine from Port Arthur and Galveston was 50 cents, that a rate of 47 cents applied from Beaumont, Houston and Orange."

Beaumont and Orange, it is understood, did not offer opposition to any proposed changes in the maximum charges, however. Houston opposed steps taken in that direction by Port Arthur and Galveston.

Caldwell, 3101 Seventh street, has taken a position in the engineering department of the Texas company, and will make Port Arthur his future home. ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

"How-de-doo!" boomed a big bell.

"Tinkle Town," called Mister Punch, the conductor man.

"What a funny name," exclaimed Nick.

"Couldn't be a better one," said Mister Punch, "for it's where the bells live. But here we are, kiddies. Jump off and see for yourselves."

So the Twins hopped off the Choo-Choo Express and walked into Tinkle Town.

"How-do-doo!" boomed a big bell shaking his head one way and then the other as he spoke. "I'm the fire-bell. Is there a fire? Is that what you came to see about?"

"Oh, no!" said Nancy. "We came to see about—"

But before she could finish, another bell interrupted.

"Hello—they came—to go—to church!" he said jerkily. "I'm the church-bell."

"No. That isn't it either," Nick spoke up. "We came to—"

"Tinkle! Tinkle! Tinkle!" went another bell before he could finish.

"I know. They came to go to school as all good children should. I'm school-bell."

"No such thing!" declared a fat Ding. Ding! I'm the dinner-bell. I should know."

"I don't believe it!" shouted a fer. "They've come to visit some of the door-bell."

"Ha, ha, ha! that's a good cry! said another bell. "The only come to see what time it is the clock-bell."

"Get out! Who should know for than I? They've come to phone. I'm the telephone bell," a new voice.

With all the bells talking at these and such a noise the Twins couldn't have made any one hear them.

So, taking hands, they ran by the little train, leaving the silly quarreling behind them.

DRYS MOBILIZE IN WET FIGHT

Seeks 90% Dry Congress, Prevent Wet Platform

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, June 26.—The nation's "dry" leaders today made plans to throttle the "inevitable onslaught of the wets."

Steps to "dry pack" every state legislature against following New York in repealing its prohibition enforcement code were taken by high officials of the anti-saloon league of America.

Forty state superintendents and ten other officers sat in war council and outlined the first nation-wide campaign to curb "back tracking" on prohibition.

The Program

The new fight will seek to:

1. Re-adopt a strict enforcement code in New York and combat-repealer proposals in other states by packing the legislatures with "dependable dries."
2. Make certain at least a ninety per cent dry congress by stamping every congressional district in the country before the next elections.
3. Prevent the inclusion of a wine and beer plank in the next democratic national platform.

P. A. Boker, general superintendent declared the league is convinced that

Mitchell Motor Plant To Be Put Up for Sale

Railine, June 25.—The plant Mitchell Motors company, reformed into bankruptcy, will be offered for sale August 1, 1930, after the report of the appraiser been filed.

Meetings of creditors of the rupt company which have been held during the past two weeks have shown why the company went bankrupt, resulted in the finding of poor management and the question of management, the change in the style of the manufactured and the heavy price of material at exorbitant prices and losses of millions of dollars. It found that even though the cars offered at less than cost there was no demand for them and agencies established by the company in cities were ruined at a heavy loss.

The New York City of the company recently forced into bankruptcy owes the Railine cost $500,000 and there will be no div of assets as the New York company has no property which will be of profit to the creditors.

The books of the New York company are to be examined by the creditors in an effort to determine why because of the number of cars shipped to the city on which no returns were made the local company, which is all to have shipped the cash to the city agency at prices below the cost of manufacture.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah

"The onslaught of the wets is now inevitable," Baker asserted. "We are confident that Mr. Harding, who in all probability will run again, will remain dry.

"Many more state legislatures would have attempted to repeal their enforcement acts had they been in session after the backward step's success in New York. We know a real fight confronts us when the legislatures meet again this winter.

"We are prepared to match their strength, dollar for dollar, and not flinch until opposition is factually whiped."

Baker said in view of congressional reappointment which would give a heavier representation to the great centers of population the "dry campaign will probably concentrate in the big cities."

26.—Visions of electrified rail more common than steam lines today and fuller development of electric resources, which will not follow or occur simultaneously with greater development of irrigation and agricultural resources, are some of the things President Roosevelt, Governor of the State of New York, president of the General Electric company, sees materializing in west within the next decade or Mr. Swope was a recent Salt Lake visitor and while here inspected numerous electrical projects in vicinity.

Electrification of railroads of large scale, Mr. Swope said, he believed inevitable. "It is best from an unanic viewpoint. Also, more efficient would be possible. When it is siddered that practically one-fourth all tonnage hauled by steam rails is lost through the use of the engine themselves, an idea of the proposed may be obtained."
